

"A hat can instantly help an actor to communicate their character's job, status and the context of the play." Helen Mason, actor and director

TUESDAY 13th FEBRUARY

7pm FOR 7.30pm

HATS OFF! – AN EVENING OF IMPROVISED THEATRE INSPIRED BY HATS

led by Helen Mason

About Helen

Helen has been involved in devised and contemporary theatre for over 30 years. Her route to acting was through street theatre and carnival. As well as conventional plays, she has acted in, devised and directed festival events, reminiscence projects, reviews, improvisation workshops, street theatre, and site-specific new writing projects.

About the workshop

STC has just inherited a trunk full of hats of all types, shapes and sizes. Join us for this informal workshop using hats to inspire new monologues, short sketches and improvised theatre. Devise a scene inspired by the hat of your choice. Have fun exploring how the right hat can help devise or unlock a character.

(Hats provided).

streatham
theatre company

SECOND TUESDAY
EVENT

no lines to learn or script to follow

a night of fun and fantasy

surprise yourself with your creative talents

all abilities welcome -
no experience necessary

STC MEMBERS FREE
NON MEMBERS £3

Location:
Studio 2, Vinters,
1b Sunnyhill Road,
Streatham,
SW16 2UG

www.streathamtheatre.org.uk
events@streathamtheatre.org.uk 020 3432 5710